M: Hello. International Friends Club. Can I help you?

W: Oh, hello. I read about your club in the paper today and I thought I'd phone to find out a bit more.

M: Yes, certainly. Well, we are a sort of social club for people from different countries. It's quite a new club—we have about 50 members at the moment, but we are growing all the time.

W: That sounds interesting. I'm British actually, and I came to Washington about three months ago. I'm looking for ways to meet people. Er, what kinds of events do you organize?

M: Well, we have social get-togethers, and sports events, and we also have language evenings.

W: Could you tell me something about the language evenings?

M: Yes. Every day except Thursday we have a language evening. People can come and practice their languages—you know, over a drink or something. We have different languages on different evenings. Monday—Spanish; Tuesday—Italian; Wednesday—German; and Friday—French. On Thursday we usually have a meal in a restaurant for anyone who wants to come.

W: Well, that sounds great. I really need to practice my French.

M: OK. Well, if you can just give me your name and address, I'll send you the form and some more information. If you join now, you can have the first month free.

M: That was good.

W: Yeah, but he couldn't do anything about the couple next door, who seemed to spend nearly all their time arguing. I tried turning up the TV but I could still hear them, and when I saw the woman in the hall one morning and mentioned it to her, she got angry. So, sadly, I had to pack my bags and find somewhere else.

W: Oh, but I have to see the dentist tomorrow, and I have a meeting to attend on Tuesday.

M: In that case, you can leave your information on this paper and I'll put your application into the computer tomorrow.

W: Oh, that's wonderful!

M: Which membership would you like: a one-year membership, a three-year membership, or a lifetime membership? There is a special gift for the lifetime membership.

W: Let me see. I think a one-year membership is right for me.

M: I'm sorry. I didn't hear my alarm... Oh! I can't find my wallet. Did you see my wallet anywhere?

W: I saw it in the drawer of your desk last night.

M: No, not that black one. It's the brown leather one.

W: Have you checked your pockets?

M: Of course I have... OK, let me check it again... Oh, here it is.

W: Why am I not surprised? OK, put on your shoes and let's get out of here!

M: Yeah, yeah... Say, why don't we take the express train to the airport? It's cheaper than...

W: A taxi will be faster! And we don't have time to argue about this.

M: OK.

M: Don't forget to get ready for the Christmas festival! Everyone is invited to attend, and your friends and family are welcome, too. We will need some members to help prepare for our yearly event. Please sign up on the sheet of paper by the door if you can help with anything. The list of things to be done includes: buying food, cooking the dinner, making decorations, and cleaning up after the party. We could use at least five people for each of these activities. Also, please give as much money for the festival as you can, so we can buy all the things we need to make this a great event. If every member here today gives twenty dollars, we should have enough. Remember that the money for the Christmas festival does not come out of our normal membership fees. One more thing, each adult who comes to the party must bring a separate gift for a child. This year, as usual, we will be giving the presents to children who have no parents. If you need ideas, just ask Mark at the back of the room.

第二节

参考范文：

Astonished and joyful, Ms. Jenkins stood there still. For a moment, she did not know what to say. The only thing she could do was let the moving tears wash her cheeks. “Do you love the flowers?” Simon asked, staring at his teacher with his naive and innocent big eyes. “Yes,” answered Ms. Jenkins, and her attention was drawn to the flowers. She told Simon she had never seen more beautiful flowers than those. Suddenly, another student came up and said affectionately, “we are your kids.” Then another.

The other kids came up one by one. They dashed up to hug their teacher, expecting to show their love and care. All these seemed to tell Ms. Jenkins that they were family, and that they wouldn't abandon each other, whatever happened. Looking at her lovely kids, Ms. Jenkins felt a warm current rising from the bottom of her heart. That was the feeling she had never experienced. It's a blessing to be loved, especially by those who are not related by blood.
